

BEAUTIES IN THE MOVIES

Dorothy Gish, the star of the Triangle play, "Jordan Is a Hard Road," was born in Massillon, O., March 11, 1898. She went on the stage at the age of four as Little Willie in "East Lynne." Much of her childhood was devoted to acting. At the old Biograph studio in New York, Mary Pickford introduced the Gish sisters to David W. Griffith. They went with his company to Los Angeles and have been prominently featured in his plays ever since. Dorothy Gish made a great hit as star in the Triangle play, "Old Heidelberg," which she repeats in "Jordan Is a Hard Road." She has been featured in such productions as: "The Mysterious Shot," "The Mountain Rat," "The Floor Above," "Silent Sandy" and "The Newest Woman."